HANDICAPS

"There is only one really insurmountable handicap, so far as I can determine," says Michael Dowling in the American Magazine, "and that is the loss of the inner power which we call the mind. And the blessed thing about that handicap is that we don't know we have it. Nothing else is unconquerable."

"Handicaps? Why, a handicap is just a chance for a good, honest fight. I would not give a turn of my hand—and it's not much of a hand, either—for a man or a woman who won't put up a fight against odds."

"Affliction turns some people into a sort of sponge, which merely soaks up pity, but a sponge never gets anywhere. We talk about the 'winds of adversity.' Well, the hardest trees are those that have been buffeted about. They don't grow in sheltered nooks or hothouses. It isn't what you are from the neck down, but from the neck up, that counts."

Mr. Dowling can speak as one having authority, because since he was a boy of 15 he has been without hands or feet, having lost both in a prairie blizzard. Now he is 53 years old, a bank president, happily married, and has a family. He dances, walks freely, drives his own car and goes hunting. He is one of the heroes of peace, ordinarily unknown. He has cast off the mantle of reserve and appeared before wounded soldiers in the hospitals to give them the encouragement of example, so much more helpful than all the kindly words in the world.

Primarily intended for the soldiers who must start life over again, be it of eyes or limbs, there is meat for all who hear, in what he says something to make the truly afflicted renew their fight with good courage and get more out of life, and to make the whole and sound consider what handicaps really are.

THE AGE-OLD GAME

Now the plot begins to thicken, as it were. The legislative survey committee, with "experts" employed to investigate state offices and departments with a view to consolidating the same, will not be ready to report some months hence when the legislature convenes.

It now becomes patent that the Republican-selected committee is playing the age-old game and when the legislature convenes in December and increase in the $9,000 appropriation will be asked for.

The report of this committee will be made about the time the campaign opens, its sole purpose being, of course, for campaign purposes and to divert the public attention from the legislative flanco of the general assembly. Stenographers who serve at legislative sessions and at O. O. P. headquarters are found on the committee payroll.

To those who follow political events it is amusing to see the very personages who made the fight for Frank B. Willis on a platform of decentralization of state departments and commissions, now putting on the reverse and calling for centralization. The insincerity of men who denounced Governor Cox for combining many departments under single heads, is so apparent that the thinking men of Ohio will not be hoodwinked by this latest political four flush.

Had the legislature and the G. O. P. leaders honestly desired a fair survey, they would have named a non-partisan committee, consulted with the governor, and it is likely that good results might have been obtained. But the real interest of Ohio is not the real interest of those who planned the legislative survey.

Recruiting officers of the marine corps demand "hardback teeth" because the men who enlist will have to eat hardback. It works the other way, too. Any doctor or dentist will tell you that eating hard stuff makes sound teeth, while soft food makes soft teeth.

The storied woman who, entranced by the new plumbing, "could hardly wait until Saturday night to take a bath," did well to restrain her impetuosity. According to a medical expert, once in two weeks is plenty.

This is the third big steel strike. Is it to be a home run, or three strikes and out?

COURT NEWS

Next Monday morning, the October term of common pleas court will convene. The members of the grand jury have been instructed to report for duty at 10 a. m. Judge Blair, who is now absent on his vacation, is expected to return Sunday and will be on the bench to hold court.

The docket for the term contains a large number of cases and from every indication the term will be a very busy one.

Quite a large number of cases will be brought to the attention of the grand jury. These include several persons bound over to the grand jury from the mayor's court and from the justice court and in addition several new cases will be presented to the members of the grand jury for their consideration.

It is expected that Judge Blair will make an assignment of chancery cases on Monday.

Discharge Paper

Samuel O. Green, a Knox county soldier, has filed his discharge paper for record in the office of County Recorder Reed.

Affidavits charging contempt of court in three instances were filed in the common pleas court of Knox county late Friday afternoon.

In the case of Nadine Owen vs. Robert K. Owen, the allegation is made that the defendant was ordered to pay the plaintiff the sum of $40 per month alimony. It is alleged that the defendant has failed and neglected to make his first payment and is therefore in contempt of court. B. E. Sapp for the plaintiff.

In the case of Ella McKenzie vs. Harry McKenzie, it is alleged that the defendant was ordered to pay the plaintiff the sum of $4 per week as alimony. It is claimed that the sum of $16 is now due. It is further alleged that as the defendant has failed to carry out the orders of the court, he is in contempt. B. E. Sapp for the plaintiff.

The third contempt proceeding is in the case of Della Clark vs. Earl Clark. The plaintiff alleges that on June 24, 1919, the defendant was directed to pay the plaintiff alimony in the sum of $600. It is alleged that no part of this sum has been paid and that the defendant is in contempt of court. B. E. Sapp for the plaintiff.

An answer and cross-petition has been filed in common pleas court in the case of Nellie M. Robinson vs. Herbert Robinson, in which the plaintiff is seeking alimony. The defendant denies that he has been guilty of cruelty. He further states that he is contributing towards the support of the plaintiff and he therefore asks that the petition asking for alimony be dismissed. The attorney for plaintiff is Lot C. Stillwell.

FREDERICKTOWN

The lady teachers in the public schools, both in the grade and high school, took a hike to Steele's woods last Monday evening, where they had supper of fried ham, eggs, coffee, etc., and had a fine time. The spirit existing among our teachers is commendable and a nicer bunch cannot be found anywhere.

In a practice game of football here on Ebersole field Tuesday evening, between Mt. Vernon high and Frederick high, Chip Robb, who was playing guard for Fredericktown, sustained a fracture of his collarbone.

Miss Adah Murphy of Mansfield has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy, several days the past week.

The Thursday club met at the home of Mr. D. M. Brumbach last Tuesday evening at which time they presented to Miss Martha Turkle a fine cut dish. Miss Turkle was a member of the club and as she was leaving for her new home the club did this in appreciation of her past service to the club.

Mrs. Jennie Lindsey of Blanchester is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anders, south of town.

The Lowell Literary society will render a literary program in the high school auditorium Friday afternoon, Oct. 3.

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church realized about eighty dollars on their chicken dinner Wednesday.

Mrs. A. Rucker, who has been living in Mt. Vernon, has moved into rooms in the house recently purchased by Willis Chilcote.

Isaac Peters and wife and daughter, Louise, of Detroit, Mich., have been visiting in the families of James Couder and Lee Hollibaugh the past week.

William Murphy and wife are moving into the property they recently purchased of Frank Nell.

Miss June Mann, a Sophomore in the high school, was attacked with a severe case of nose-bleed last Wednesday afternoon necessitating the calling of a physician before the flow of blood could be stopped.

CHARGE FATHER CHOKED HIS SON

Frank Nell Of Howard Tp. Arrested By Lybarger BOY 14 YEARS OLD Claims Plow So Dull That He Could Not Work, Father Becoming Angry

Because he is alleged to have knocked down his 14-year-old son when the latter was unable to proceed with plowing a field, Frank Nell, of Howard township, is in jail, the arrest having been made by Humane Officer Jacob Lybarger on complaint of neighbors.

Paul Nell told authorities there were so many stones in the field and the plow was so dull that he could not continue his work. Thereupon, according to the boy, his father felled him and next proceeded to choke him.

An affidavit was made Saturday by Officer Lybarger, but Nell will be kept in jail as long as the law allows, it was stated.

LITTLE WORK FOR GRAND JURY TO DO

Prosecutor Ashbaugh Says He Knows Nothing of Any 'Sensational' Case

According to Prosecuting Attorney Paul M. Ashbaugh, there will be very little work for the grand jury of the October term of common pleas court, which convenes next Monday morning.

"Outside of a few non-support cases there will be very little for the grand jury to do," said the prosecutor.

Prosecuting Attorney Ashbaugh knew nothing of a sensational case which it is claimed would be brought to the attention of the grand jury.

NOW RAISES 600 CHICKENS

After Being Relieved of Organic Trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oregon, Ill.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely do my work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year it made it very hard for me. Ill.

"I saw the Compound advertised in our paper, and tried it. It has restored my health so I can do all my work and I am so grateful that I am recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. D. H. Altman, R. R. 4, Oregon, Ill.

Only women who have suffered the tortures of such troubles and have dragged along from day to day can realize the relief which this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, brought to Mrs. Altman.

Women everywhere in Mrs. Altman's condition should profit by her recommendation, and if there are any complications write Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

FARM LOAN MAN IS COMING TO THE CITY

Farmers everywhere are becoming more and more interested in the federal Farm Loan act because they know it gives them the only kind of a farm loan that is suited to their needs. Instead of making short time loans, the federal Farm Loan act provides for long time loans to farmers only, which are repaid in small semi-annual payments.

The federal Farm Loan act establishes loan banks all over the country to attend to the business of making these loans. I am representing the Virginia Joint Stock Land Bank, which makes loans direct to farmers without joining any association or buying stock. I will be in Mt. Vernon, at the Hotel Curtis, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 7 and 8, for the purpose of meeting farmers and accepting applications for loans. If you are interested and cannot come in at that time, write to me for further information.
